

NEWS 2015

Aug 06, 2015

Start-up founders demonstrate their worth

CNBC

Start-up founders met hundreds of potential investors at Singapore's Demo Day, which was the finale of a three-month "boot camp" designed to help entrepreneurs sharpen their business plans with the help of financial services mentors. Eleven financial technology start-ups made their pitches to possible investors at Demo Day.

—By Pauline Chiou

Pat Markey, left, an independent consultant who acted as a mentor to start-up Kyepot, explaining the mobile savings and lending app to a potential investor.

Startupbootcamp Fintech